Touring Time

The students and staff welcomed our new Almond Families this week. On Wednesday afternoon and Friday morning, Kathleen S., Lara D., and seven sixth grade students and I presented an introduction to Springer. Our student ambassadors walked the parents through 15 locations at Springer.

The outgoing and incoming PTA Presidents welcomed the Almond parents. Following introductions, our sixth grade student ambassadors led the tours of the school. Each parent received a tour guide.

The guide outlined the programs and activities that take place at each of the locations. A very special thank you to sixth grade ambassadors:

Katie C.	Mary R.	Oren M.	Ximena T.
Max B.	Zoe M.	Kyle A.

We are certainly looking forward to helping our new families' transition to Springer.

Springer Students Continue to be Recognized

Last week, I introduced the Springer students who participated in the Springer Science Faire as well as our Sixth Grade students who entered their Science Faire Projects in the Synopsys sponsored Science O Rama.

Well, we received further good news this past weekend. Springer now has four students that have been recognized in a distinguished manner. On Saturday, March 29th, the following students have been invited to attend a recognition assembly at Great America.

Congratulations to:

Isabella D.	Juliet H.	Zoe M.	Melissa R.

Winter / Spring Concert

What a night! I do believe anyone in attendance at the evening concert last Thursday evening would join me in commending our Kindergarten through Third Grade students for a job well done. It was very satisfying to see our children perform well.

It appeared they also had a very good time.

Thank you to our Community School of Music and Arts docents, our staff teachers, and the many, many parents who came out and supported the evening of song.
